

Faster Than a Speeding Concorde

A British firm is at work on a hypersonic passenger plane that could one day take less than five hours to fly between Europe and Australia. The hypersonic plane is called the A2 and is the impressive brainchild of engineers at Reaction Engines, in Oxfordshire.

Article link:

<https://www.tourism-review.com/faster-than-a-speeding-concorde-n>

ews10005