Victoria on Vancouver Island, British Columbia, Canada

At the southern tip of Vancouver Island, Victoria is not only the provincial capital, but also the most British flavored city in Canada. In 1843, Victoria was established by the Hudson's Bay Company as a British fur-trading post.

Date: 2017-05-25

Article link:

https://www.tourism-review.com/victoria-on-vancouver-island-british-columbia-canada-news10056